A Hiss Before Dying by Rita Mae Brown

In the novel deaths are piling up in disturbing fashions, clues leading back to Virginia's post-Revolutionary past, and a shootout that pales in comparison to the Shot Heard Round the World. Will they be able to right a wrong as old as America's independence?

Mystery BROWN

Rosalie Lightning by Tom Hart

Hart uses the graphic form to articulate his and his wife's on-going search for meaning in the aftermath of Rosalie's death, exploring themes of grief, hopelessness, rebirth, and eventually finding hope again. It is a graphic masterpiece chronicling a father's undying love.

Earthly Remains by Donna Leon

In the twenty-sixth novel in this series, Commissario Guido Brunetti's endurance is tested more than ever before. During an interrogation of an entitled, arrogant man suspected of giving drugs to a young girl who then died, Brunetti acts rashly, doing something he will quickly come to regret. In the fallout, he realizes that he needs a break, needs to get away from the stifling problems of his work. However, this break leads into yet another investigation.
