

Natives of a Dry Place by Richard Edwards

This book focuses on a not-so-distant past and takes readers on a journey of reflection to a time before big oil.

978.4 EDWARDS

Sexism at Work by Duchess Harris

In this book, Harris takes a look at the history of sexism at work, the current issues surrounding this topic, and steps people can take to eliminate sexist practices.

331.133 HARRIS

At the Great Door of Morning by Robert Hedin

This work highlights Hedin's original poems, translations of Norwegian poets, and includes the aphoristic essay "Field Notes." Hedin's poems-elegant, spare, and devoid of artifice-detail themes of Midwestern life, the natural world, ocean liners, and airships.

811.54 HEDIN

Apocalypse Child by Flor Edwards

This book is a cathartic journey through Edwards' memories of growing up within the "Children of God" group, with unconventional views on education, religion, and sex.

921 EDWARDS