

Blonde Rattlesnake by Julia Bricklin

This book tells the story of nineteen-year-old Burmah Adams and her husband of less than one week who spent their honeymoon on a crime spree robbing at least twenty people in L.A. at gunpoint and killing two before eventually being tracked down and arrested.

Inside the Five-Sided Box by Ash Carter

In this book, the twenty-fifth Secretary of Defense takes readers behind the scenes to reveal the inner workings of the Pentagon, its vital mission, and what it takes to lead it. Former Secretary of Defense Ash Carter demystifies the Pentagon and sheds light on all that happens inside one of the nation's most iconic, and most closely guarded, buildings.

More than Enough by Elaine Welteroth

Elaine Welteroth, a journalist for Teen Vogue, a young boss, and often the only black woman in the room, has had enough of the world telling her—and all women—that they're not enough. As she learns to rely on herself by looking both inward and upward, we're ultimately reminded that we're more than enough in this book.

How to Forget Kate Mulgrew

When her father is diagnosed with aggressive lung cancer and her mother with atypical Alzheimer's, the star Orange is the New Black and bestselling author of Born with Teeth returns to her hometown in Iowa to spend time with her parents and care for them in the time they have left. During this time, Mulgrew reflects on each of their lives and how they shaped her own creating a powerful and honest memoir.
