

Furious Hours by Casey Cep

Reverend Willie Maxwell was accused of murdering five of his family members for insurance money in the 1970s but managed to escape justice for four years until a relative shot him dead at the funeral of his last victim. Despite hundreds of witnesses, Maxwell's murderer was acquitted—thanks to the same attorney who had previously defended the Reverend. Sitting in the audience during the vigilante's trial was Harper Lee who spent a year gathering information on the case.

364.1523 CEP

Space Dogs by Martin Parr

This fascinating book tells the story of the soviet space dogs, illustrated with legendary photographer Martin Parr's vintage space-dog memorabilia.

629.45 PARR

Forbidden Hollywood by Mark A. Vieira

Spotlighting twenty-two films, this book is filled with rare images and untold stories from filmmakers, exhibitors, and moviegoers and is the ultimate guide to a gloriously entertaining era when a lax code of censorship let sin rule the movies.

791.43 VIEIRA

Hearts in Harmony by Beth Wiseman

Levi Shelter and Mary Hershberger both have a love for music, but in their strict Amish community, instruments or the singing of any music not in their approved songbook is forbidden. They connect, despite their differences, over their shared love for music and confusion about whether their talents are God-given gifts or temptations luring them into the Englisch world, but even as their passion for music brings them together, it could be what tears them apart.

WISEMAN