The Vanishing Half by Brit Bennett

After growing up in a small, southern black community and running away at sixteen, the Vignes twins' lives are completely different as adults. One living with her daughter in the same town she tried to escape and one passing as white, this story spans from the 1950s to 1990s.

The Family Upstairs by Lisa Jewell

Twenty-five years ago, police were called with reports of a baby crying. When they arrive to the address, they find a baby cooing in her crib, three dead bodies downstairs, and the four other children reported to live in the house gone. And twenty-five year old Libby finally finds out who she is with no idea of what awaits her.

The End of October by Lawrence Wright

In this electrifying thriller, forty-seven people are pronounced dead in Indonesia with acute hemorrhagic fever. When Henry Parsons travels there to investigate, what he finds will soon have staggering repercussions across the globe: an infected man is on his way to join the millions of worshippers in the annual Hajj to Mecca.

The Knockout Queen by Ruffalo

Bunny Lampert is the princess of the North Shore who has it all—whose life isn't as perfect as it seems. Michael lives with his aunt next door to Bunny—who pretends to be straight and is trying to understand himself. These two unlikely people, both aching for a connection, will collide.
