Hidden Valley Road by Robert Kolker

This is the heartrending story of a family with twelve children, six of them diagnosed with schizophrenia, that became science's greatest hope in the quest to understand the disease.

George Harrison on George Harrison by Ashley Kahn

Known as the "Quiet Beatle" but arguably the most thoughtful and certainly most outspoken of the famous four, these are Harrison's most revealing and illuminating interviews, correspondence, and writings.

The Heirloom Garden by Viola Shipman

Having lost her husband to World War II and her daughter to illness, Iris walled herself off from the world and built a new family...of flowers. Then Abby moves next door and Iris is reluctantly yet inevitably drawn into her boisterous neighbor's life.

Goldilocks by Laura Lam

Despite increasing restrictions on the freedoms of women on Earth, Valerie Black is spearheading the first all-female mission to a planet in the Goldilocks Zone—where conditions are just right for human habitation—in humanity's last hope for survival.
